

CAÑADAS ABOGADOS

LAW FIRM

www.canadasabogados.com, cookies policy

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small file that is downloaded to your computer/smartphone/tablet when accessing certain web pages to store and retrieve information from your device. Among other functions, to store and retrieve information about browsing habits of a user in order to improve the service offered. The information collected by cookies is anonymous and does not identify the user's identity.

Types of cookies

According to the entity that manages the domain from which cookies are sent and uses the information obtained through them, there are two types:

- Own cookies: sent to the browsing device from our own equipment or domains.
- Third party cookies: sent to the browsing device from the equipment or domain of collaborating entities..

According to the time in which cookies are stored in the user's browser; these may be:

- Session cookies: activated while the user browses the website or for carrying out a specific requested service.
- Persistent cookies: stored for a specific time in the user's browsing device. The responsible party has access to them whenever the user accesses the website.

According to the end use of the data obtained:

- Technical cookies: needed for the correct use of the website and the provision of its services.
- Customisation cookies: allow the user to access the website and the provided services with predefined general characteristics within a series of criteria at the user's device (language, type of browser...).
- Analysis cookies: allow for the tracking and statistical analysis of the behaviour of all users as a whole for the websites they are linked to.
- Advertising cookies: allow for the management of advertising space within a website, application of platform from which the requested service is provided.
- Behavioural advertising cookies: store information on the behaviour of the users obtained from the browsing habits, thus allowing to develop a specific profile in order to present advertisements.

Cookies used in our website

Own cookies

- canadas_abogados

Tipo Customisation

Finalidad store cookies policy acceptance cookie store language selected by user

Third party cookies

- Google Analytics: __utma, __utmb, __utmc, __utmz

Tipo Analysis

Finalidad Knowing how users browse through our website in order to improve the services we offer. This information is anonymous and it is only used with statistical purposes.

More information

- Google Analytics: __utmx

Tipo Analysis

Finalidad Carrying out A/B tests in order to measure the effectiveness of changes in design

More information

info@canadasabogados.com

+34 915 346 789

C/ Espronceda 39, 3º - 28003 MADRID Spain

www.canadasabogados.com

CAÑADAS ABOGADOS

LAW FIRM

How to modify your cookie settings

As a user, you can give consent to the use of cookies or revoke it at any time through your browser settings, which may allow, restrict, block or erase cookies from any website.

How you do this will vary depending on the browser used. The following links are available to all the information to configure or disable cookies in every browser:

- Internet Explorer
- Firefox
- Chrome
- Safari

Furthermore you can manage the storing of cookies by your browser and disabling it by using tools such as:

- Ghostery
- Your online choices

If you do not allow the installation of cookies, you may not be able to successfully access the content and services of our website..

However, if you continue browsing our website without changing your browser settings, it is understood that you consent to the use of cookies on the conditions contained in this cookies policy.

info@canadasabogados.com

+34 915 346 789

C/ Espronceda 39, 3º - 28003 MADRID España

www.canadasabogados.com